Working on a Communication Project?

Use the most comprehensive communications database available.

Communication Source™

Access information in these subject areas:

- Communications & Media
- Communication Theory
- Speech-Language Pathology
- Journalism

- Rhetoric & Discourse
- Media Studies
- Language & Linguistics
- Speech Communication

Ask your librarian for details on how to access Communication Source within the library or remotely.

See reverse side for features that make researching easier.

EBSCO

Features of Communication Source

Search Screen

1 Search Box: Start your research by entering keywords to search journals, books and more.

2 Publications Browse: Find articles by browsing publications available in Communication Source™.

3 Browse Cited References: Cited References connect users to additional information about EBSCO*host* articles of interest.

4 Thesaurus: Browse articles using EBSCO's controlled vocabulary of terms that assists in the effective searching of communication-related content.

5 Search Modes: Search using Booleans or exact phrases, automatically place AND or OR between your search terms, or search using large amounts of text with SmartText Searching.

Result List Screen

1 Current Search: Quickly view your current search selections and update your search results by removing selected items.

2 Limit your results: Refine your searches without navigating away from the results page.

3 Facets: Filter search results by source type, related subjects, and more.

4 Personal Folder: Create a personal My EBSCO*host* folder to save articles, links to searches, images, and more.

5 Search History: Search history and alerts are located directly above the results list and can be expanded and viewed in conjunction with the current results list.