When it comes to talking about books, there are endless ways to describe them, but we’re often quick to let one concept take the lead — if there are robots or aliens, it must be science fiction. If there’s a haunted house, then it’s horror. But there’s so much more to books than just one simple descriptor.

And that is the challenge: making a book discoverable when you don’t know exactly WHY any one reader might be interested in it or what reading experience they’re looking for. The reader may be looking for a particular genre, like psychological suspense, or they might be seeking a particular feeling, like inspiring or gritty (we call this appeal). Some readers want a specific theme or plot of a book (like fish out of water or opposites attract).

That’s why NoveList created a vocabulary that tries to tell the complete story (pun intended). We developed this language in response to reading trends, as well as the needs of readers and librarians. None of these headings individually is the end-all-be-all to finding the right book but, using them together, readers can explore and narrow down their search to find books that fit the reading experience they want.

We’ve spent a lot of time making sure our headings are sound and can speak to librarians and readers alike. As authors continue to expand and experiment, we will continue to review and expand our headings — and we always welcome feedback. Please feel free to share your thoughts and questions with us at novelist@ebsco.com.

Happy reading!

Starter Questions

Use these to start conversations with readers.

- Can you tell me about a book you’ve read and enjoyed?
- What movies and TV shows have you enjoyed?
- Which of your favorite authors or series do you wish had a new book?
- What are you in the mood for today?

Pace

Pace is the rate at which a story unfolds for the reader. We identify books at either end of the spectrum. We also tag those that start slowly, then accelerate as the story progresses.

- Fast-paced
  Events in these exciting books unfold rapidly, moving the reader quickly through the story.

- Intensifying
  These books gradually build in momentum throughout the story, resulting in a gripping conclusion.

- Leisurely paced
  Due to descriptive language, focus on detail, or careful development of character or setting, these books unfold slowly, allowing the reader to savor the narrative.

AUDIENCE(S) THIS TERM APPLIES TO:
- ADULT
- TBR
- AGES 9-12
- AGES 0-8

Why so few pace terms? Nobody is really looking for “medium-paced” books. It’s only an active appeal when it stands out on the spectrum.
Making Comparisons

Use comparisons to dig deeper into reading preferences. Do you prefer plot-driven or character-driven stories? Fast-paced or leisurely paced? Amusing and upbeat, or creepy and gruesome?

Storyline is a quick way to determine a book’s focus and structure.

- Action-packed
  - Pulse-pounding, high-octane excitement is the rule!

- Character-driven Fiction use only
  - Interior growth and development of characters is important.

- Intricately plotted
  - These books have intricate, complicated, or elaborate storylines.

- Issue-oriented
  - Issue-oriented books explore controversial themes, which may cover emotional, ethical, or social problems.

- Nonlinear
  - Events in these books shift between time periods.

- Open-ended
  - Instead of providing answers, these books invite readers to ponder events long after the last page.

- Own voices
  - Here the protagonist and the author share a marginalized identity.

- Plot-driven Fiction use only
  - Events rather than characters propel these stories forward.

- Sweeping
  - These sprawling stories span decades or generations and frequently include multiple locations and historical events.

- Unconventional
  - Using unique or unexpected elements, these books may twist, adapt, or play with conventional storylines.

- World-building
  - These books immerse the reader in vivid imaginary worlds of invented histories, languages, geography, or cultures.
Tone in NoveList

Do a quick search to find the right tone. For example, type AP strong sense of place.

Tone is the feeling that a book evokes in the reader. In many cases, this category best answers the question, “What are you in the mood for?”

- Amusing
  They may not make you laugh out loud, but these stories have a light humor that sometimes accentuates more serious themes.

- Angst-filled
  Characters in these books experience problems associated with adolescence, such as questions about sexuality, popularity, or social standing.

- Atmospheric
  These books evoke the story’s setting, whether it’s a gothic mansion or a small Midwestern town.

- Bittersweet
  A mixed emotional edge — both pleasant and painful — that is sustained throughout the story.

- Bleak
  A dark outlook, frequently devoid of faith in human nature and tending away from hope or optimism.

- Chaste
  These books about romantic relationships focus on the emotions of the characters, and contain no sex or descriptions of sexual activity.

- Conservative  Nonfiction use only
  Represents a conservative (often Republican) perspective on American politics and social issues such as the environment, poverty, and the economy.

Humor comes in many varieties, so tone can help you get specific... Are you looking for light-hearted humor? Try amusing, funny, or silly. Want something more edgy? Look for darkly humorous or sardonic.
Impassioned  Nonfiction use only
These books convey strong emotions to readers because the authors are forcefully advocating a particular point of view, making an argument, or telling an emotional story.

Inspiring
These books have an enlightening or uplifting quality, which may or may not be religious in nature.

Irreverent
No institutions, people, or beliefs are off-limits in these humorous (and sometimes subversive) books.

Liberal  Nonfiction use only
Represents a liberal (often Democratic) perspective on American politics, politicians, and social issues such as the environment, poverty, and the economy.

Melancholy
While not grim or hopeless, these books are sad, somber, or gloomy.

Menacing
A sense of threat or menace pervades, evoking feelings of dread.

Mildly sensuous
Sex is present, but it’s not given pride of place. Relationships are most important, but sometimes characters act on their attractions.

Moody
A dark and brooding tone that borders on melodrama.

Moving
Emotionally resonant books that make readers feel invested in both the characters and the story.

Mystical
Touching on spiritual themes, these books often explore archetypes and incorporate metaphysical events.

Noisy
Because of rousing, energetic pictures or text, these stories lend themselves to loud readings.

Nostalgic
Characters reminisce, or the book looks back toward a particular place or time with longing and wistfulness.

Offbeat
Through plot twists, bizarre humor, and unique personalities, these quirky books recount unconventional, idiosyncratic, or unusual stories.

Patriotic
These books celebrate and show pride in one’s country and its achievements.

Quiet
Soothing, low-key stories that have a calming effect on young readers.

Racy humor
Including coarse or risqué material; these books refer to sex in a humorous way.

Reflective
Contemplative books featuring characters who think seriously about their lives and place in the world.

Some tone words are just for kids — for example, gross, noisy, quiet, silly, scary, & sweet are all terms that can help you find the perfect book for storytime, read-alouds, or (best of all!) naptime.
Romantic
These books feature strong romantic elements — either between characters or in the story itself. Happy endings not guaranteed!

Sad
Issues in these books may be very serious (such as death), or less serious but still challenging (such as a friend moving away).

Sardonic
Dry humor and biting wit set the tone in these stories.

Scary
These spooky books have a frightening or menacing feeling that will make young readers uneasy.

Self-deprecating  Nonfiction use only
Never taking themselves too seriously, the authors humorously expose their own embarrassments, making readers sympathize, laugh, and sometimes cringe!

Serious
Marked by seriousness, gravity, or solemnity, these books confront social issues such as war, poverty, gender, or racial concerns.

Silly
The class clowns of literature, these books are often quite absurd and ridiculous but lots of fun.

Sobering
Addressing weighty social issues, these serious and hard-hitting books present a perspective that may be revelatory to the reader.

Spiritual  Nonfiction use only
These nonfiction books represent a spiritual outlook on religion and spirituality.

Steamy
In adult books, the sex is pretty vivid and goes beyond just innuendo. In teen books, there is still an unmistakably sexy aura, although perhaps not as much graphic detail.

Strong sense of place
Powerfully depicted locales — real or imaginary — come alive and give a good sense of what makes a place unique.

Suspenseful
Ranging in intensity from subtle psychological unease to nail-biting suspense, these books keep readers on edge.

Sweet
With a light tone and appealing innocence, these endearing books are cute, playful, and otherwise delightful.

Thought-provoking
More than just telling a story, these books take on big ideas — anything from philosophical quandaries to time paradoxes.

Upbeat
These fun books are lighthearted, hopeful, and optimistic.

Violent
Not for the faint of heart, these books contain explicit or graphic violence.

Whimsical
These fanciful and playful books will charm and enchant readers, and often include fairy tales or other elements of fantasy.

For readers with a passion for place, direct them to books with a strong sense of place, and then pair it with a subject heading for a location — anything from Paris to Middle Earth.
Characters readers love
(and the appeal that tells you why)

Readers fall in love with Nimona, the quirky, spirited, strong female villain, even as she’s planning attacks on cities with genetically modified dragons.

Following a large cast of characters, including strong female protagonists, this LGBTQIA diverse story immerses the reader in a world of magic and intrigue.

Competition between brothers as told by Josh, a believable character appealing to middle grade kids into sports and culturally diverse characters.

Only applied to fiction, character appeal is especially for those readers who love books because of the characters.

- Ability diverse
  These characters live with physical, mental, or emotional conditions that can often be challenging.

- Anthropomorphic
  From cats solving mysteries to crayons quitting their day jobs, the non-human characters in these books offer a unique perspective.

- Authentic
  These characters behave in ways that accord with their age, nationality, and backgrounds.

- Awkward
  Often unsure of themselves, these characters lack the social savvy to navigate relationships and other interpersonal situations smoothly.

- Believable
  These characters ring true for young readers, and behave in ways that are consistent with their age and backgrounds.

- Brooding
  Haunted by past traumas or mistakes, these morose characters contemplate (and often must confront) what is wrong in the world.

- Character duos
  From best friends to odd couples, these books feature dynamic duos who take on the world together!

To help all kinds of readers find all kinds of characters, look for ability diverse, culturally diverse, LGBTQIA diverse, and religiously diverse characters. Try adding our own voices appeal to find books in which the author and the character share a marginalized identity.
Sarcastic
These young characters sometimes employ sarcasm for humor, and sometimes in response to difficult or challenging situations.

Sassy
These books feature characters (usually women) with outsized personalities and a bottomless well of one-liners and comebacks.

Snarky
These characters employ sarcasm, irony, and biting wit in their approach to life (and often have fun with it!).

Spirited
These lively characters are full of energy and vigor.

Spunky
Feisty and scrappy, these characters have pluck and determination.

Strong female
Whether catching criminals or saving the world, these take-charge women and girls are at the top of their game.

Sympathetic
While sometimes dealing with difficult situations or making poor decisions, these characters are presented in such a way that readers empathize with them.

Twisted
Deviant and often unsettling, these characters push the boundaries of literature through behavior that ranges from disturbing to illegal.

Unlikeable
Deliberately painted in an unflattering light, these characters will not gain the sympathy of readers, so there is less emotional investment if and when bad things happen to them.

Well-developed
Sometimes appearing in more plot-driven stories, these characters rise above others in the strength of their development.

Have a reader who doesn’t mind spending time with uncomfortable people? Try books with unlikeable or twisted characters.

Easy-to-understand Nonfiction use only
These books make hard-to-understand things a little easier.

Engaging
These books capture the imagination of readers through narrative style, character, or use of detail.

Gritty
Characterized by a narrative style that includes dark and unsettling details, these books often depict violence.

Jargon-filled
These books use the specialized, technical language of a particular group, trade, or profession.

Lush
Descriptive language evokes the senses, making readers feel as if they are experiencing what is being described.

Lyrical
Graceful, beautiful language, often with a rhythmic or poetic quality.

Minimal text
Generally used with young children, these have few words per page. The words tend to be simple, and sentences are short.

Participatory
These books require the reader to engage with the story by answering questions or through physical interaction.

Persuasive Nonfiction use only
These books may present both sides of an issue, but are frequently used to bolster a specific opinion.

Richly detailed
Details enrich these stories, sometimes focusing on a special body of knowledge (e.g., forensics, music, history, etc.).

Scholarly Nonfiction use only
Using authoritative sources and addressing complex topics, the language in these books may be academic or technical.

Slang-heavy
Characters in these books make frequent use of slang, which often aids in character development.

Spare
Minimal and elegant with great attention paid to the use of language.

Stream of consciousness Fiction use only
These novels and stories portray the uninterrupted and uneven flow of the characters’ consciousness.

Stylistically complex
Due to sophisticated language and narrative structure, these stories can often be read on a number of levels.

Thoughtful
Despite covering a sensitive or controversial topic, these books are considerately written and handle the subject with respect.

Well-crafted dialogue
These books contain authentic or notable dialogue.

Well-researched
The authors of these books demonstrate a deep and knowledgeable understanding of their subject.

Witty
These cleverly written books use language in an inventive, humorous way.

Wordplay-filled
These books are full of puns, palindromes, anagrams, and other clever uses of language.
Different kinds of Illustrations

Discover the perfect read in Horror

Horror draws on the unseen, the unknown, and the uncanny in order to explore — and expose — humanity’s darkest fears. It provokes a range of visceral reactions in the reader, from the subtle chills of dread evinced by Victorian ghost stories to the adrenaline-laced fear and disgust evoked by contemporary zombie novels. Themes of abjection, monstrosity, and taboo are common.

Characters

- Band of survivors

Tips for Horror Fans

One way to approach horror is to consider a spectrum of dread (think The Haunting of Hill House) to gore (think Clive Barker). What are you looking for?

You can use appeal terms to pinpoint your preference. Tone appeals like moody, creepy, and menacing will lead you to the dread end of the scale. Looking for a real gut-churner? Try a search for violent, gruesome, or disturbing!

Some horror themes will always have a supernatural element, like vampire menace or moving to a haunted house; others may build on horrifying possibilities in the real world, like real life monsters.
Discover the perfect read in Mystery

Whodunnit? Mysteries are catnip to readers looking for puzzles to solve, no matter the subgenre (like cozy mysteries or police procedurals). They can be character-driven or action-packed, fast-paced or leisurely paced; in some cases, the location (or time period) is as much a part of the story as the characters are. Mysteries can range from funny and wordplay-filled to downright disturbing.

Discover the perfect read in Thrillers and Suspense

Increasing tension and menace keep thrillers and suspense readers on the edge of their seats. In some, protagonists have only a short time to neutralize fatal threats (to themselves or the world), while in others, a more subtle danger is in play. Sometimes, readers may know more about what’s going on than the protagonists do, which amps up the suspense. Anticipation keeps readers hooked and pages flying by.

As you might guess, suspenseful is a common appeal in this genre, and it can be easily modified to suit different tastes: those who love high-octane thrillers might search for fast-paced or action-packed, while fans of psychological suspense can look for intricately plotted or disturbing to find multilayered tales with shocking twists.

Crime Fiction

Crime fiction thrives on what transpires in the shadows: the seedy underbelly of the big city, the forgotten desperation of small country towns, or even quiet domestic angst that begins to boil over. The protagonists in these genres are rarely role models; they pursue their objectives by any means at their disposal, often subverting law and civil society. Readers interested in crime fiction may be drawn to the exploration of moral ambiguity, complex characterizations, or vivid descriptions of life outside mainstream society.

Humor

When you're alone and life is making you lonely, you can always go... to the humor genre! Guffaws, cackles, smirks, and mwahahahas abound in these novels. While other genres make use of humor, the sole purpose of these stories is to make the reader laugh. Humor ranges in tone, in audience level, and in situations — from witty dialogue and absurd scenarios to dark humor and sarcastic critiques on society's flaws.

Search Tips

Need a bittersweet, character-driven love story with themes of immigrant experiences and life during wartime? NoveList is here to help! Combine genres, appeals, and themes to pinpoint the right stories. Here are some of our favorite combos — just type them as seen below into the NoveList search box:

AP amusing AND TH being a friend
For a chuckle-worthy story time full of fun and friendship, look for amusing picture books that feature friendship. Add cartoony for cute and accessible illustrations.

GN science fiction AND AP fast-paced
AND TH human 2.0
For otherworldly experiences at a breakneck pace, readers who are fans of SF with enhanced beings should search for fast-paced and human 2.0.

AP suspenseful AND TH unreliable narrator
Fans of Gone Girl and The Girl on the Train should look into suspenseful stories that feature unreliable narrators to find their next perfect page-turner.

AP distinctly voiced AND AP immersive
On a road trip with the family? Some of the best audiobooks have narrators who use distinct voices. Combine with a theme to find a title that works for your family. Some to try: alien invasions, chosen one, Sherlock Paws, life in small towns.

AP feel-good AND TH becoming big brothers and sisters
For parents looking to help their kids feel excited and reassured about the arrival of a new sibling, here’s some extra help while expecting. Change to TH Welcome baby! to focus on the wonder and joy that newborns bring.

GN romance AND AP steamy AND TH marriage of convenience
For your romance readers (who know and love their themes), try a search to combine the level of spice with the type of stories they like. To turn down the heat, change steamy to chaste.
